Reading Comprehension

- Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below:

Sara Akbar, a chemical petroleum engineer, worked in the oil sector at the Kuwait Oil Company from 1981 to 1999. She played an important role in oil production recovery efforts following the 1990 Gulf war. Her action earned her the name “firefighter”, and she received the “Global 500 Award” from the United Nations Environmental Program in recognition of her work.

After the Gulf War, when oil wells were set on fire, Kuwait created the Kuwaiti firefighting team. Sara Akbar was a member of that team. It worked for about 45 days and it controlled about 42 oil wells.

Akbar is the only woman holding a senior position in the oil and gas industry in the Middle East. Last November, she received the “Leader in Energy” award at the 2009 “Women in Leadership” Awards and Forum in Dubai.

Akbar has a big family. They are 10 brothers and sisters. Her father gave them the choice of career they wanted to follow — full responsibility for choosing their own life. # Reading Comprehension

- Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below:

The Koala bear is one the cutest animal in the world . It has a small body , grey coloured fur , and a white belly . It doesn't have a tail . What's funny about the Koala bear is that it is not a bear at all .

Koalas are actually like Kangaroos , a type of animals that have pockets where they keep their young in . A newborn Koala is called a joey and when it is born , it doesn't look like the grown –up Koala we know . It is born blind and without ears or fur.

Soon after its birth , the Joey goes in to the mother's pocket , and continues to grow it.s eyes , legs and fur for six months . The young Koala then leaves the pocket and mostly stays on the mother's back to grow for six more months . It stays there until it is ready to climb up the trees , sleep on the branches and eat on its own

Koalas spend most of their lives in trees called “ gum trees “ and only go to the ground if necessary . Living in these trees helps them to reach their food easily and stay away from wild animals that might attack. Although gum leaves are poisonous to other animals , they are the only food for Koalas eat . The Koala's stomach has special bacteria that can take energy and water from the leaves . When they are not climbing trees , Koalas sleep up to 20 hours a day . A grown up Koala can grow to be around 15 to 20 years old.
